Supporting Parents/Carers

“Supporting a Child who has Additional Needs”

Are you the parent or carer of a child with additional needs that may result in socially inappropriate behaviour for example a diagnosis or statement of Autism, Aspergers Syndrome, E.B.D, Special Educational Needs or challenging behaviour?

If the answer is yes this one day course may be just what you are looking for. It will enable you to understand your child's behaviour, how to support them positively and improve opportunities for your child, yourself and your family.

The course is set in a relaxed and non-judgemental environment for you to discuss individual problems, gain advice and support and have an opportunity to share your experiences.

You will meet other parents/carers in a similar situation and enjoy learning with new friends. You will also leave the course with a better understanding of your child and how to support them to achieve an enhanced and valued lifestyle.

It is an interactive course which offers practical tips and guidance to support your child and their challenging behaviour.

The programme will include:

- An overview of ASD/Challenging Behaviour
- Understanding Behaviour & the Causes of Challenging Behaviour
- Reactions to Crisis Situations
- Communication Tools/Techniques
- How to Manage Challenging Behaviour
- Proactive & Active Strategies to Support your Child

This course is led by experienced, professional trainers from The Loddon Training & Consultancy, who are experienced in the provision of support for individuals with learning disabilities, ASD and challenging behaviours.
